DETAILED ACTION

1. The amendment filed June 28, 2002 has been entered. It is noted that in view of the new amendment practice under 37 CFR 1.121 which became mandatory for all amendments on March 1, 2001, and due to the limited amount of examining time per application, if the amendment contains changes to existing language that requires a marked-up version showing those changes, the Examiner is relying upon the marked-up version(s) for examination of the application. It is applicant's responsibility to ensure that the clean version(s) is (are) the same as the marked-up version(s). It is further noted that the clean version(s) is (are) considered to be the Official version(s).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 3724

3. Claim 56 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Shiotani et al., pn 5,116,249.

Shiotani discloses a table saw with every structural limitation of the claimed invention including a base (e.g., 7); a first table (e.g., 2 or 4) mounted to the base and including a first surface (e.g., the vertical surface that extends along the side of the first table and extends substantially parallel to and adjacent to rail 30) that defines a plane; a second table (e.g., 3) movable relative to the first table; a locking mechanism including a lever (e.g., 16) which extends from the plane in the unlocked position.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Art Unit: 3724

5. Claims 1, 5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Shiotani et al., pn 5,116,249.

Shiotani discloses a table saw with every structural limitation of the claimed invention.

In the alternative, if it is argued that Shiotani does not disclose the specific first and second rail arrangement with respect to the first and second tables, the Examiner takes Official notice that such table/rail arrangements are old and well known in the art and provide various known benefits including a more compact table configuration. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to provide a second table fixedly mounted on rails, and rails which are slidably mounted to the first table and movable relative to the first table (and the base) for the well known benefits including that described above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. Claims 6 and 8-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shiotani et al., pn 5,116,249.

Shiotani lacks the specific locking mechanism configuration. However, the Examiner takes Official notice that such locking mechanism configurations are old and well known in the art and provide various known benefits including providing a more stable and secure locking action for elongated features (e.g., tables, fences, etc.). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to provide the specific claimed locking mechanism configuration for the well known benefits including that described above.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments filed December 14, 2001 and June 28, 2002 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The prior art, specifically, Shiotani et al., meets the claim limitations including those directed to the orientation of the lever with respect to the plane defined by the first surface, specifically that the lever extends from the plane in the unlocked position. However, it is noted that Shiotani does not appear to teach or suggest the lever extending from the plane of the work support surface of the table when the lever is in the unlocked position.

Conclusion

8. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 3724
